

IDEATION

1. AI and Machine-learning are quickly becoming differentiating capabilities for Demand Planning and Replenishment solutions.

- Keep up with customer demands and delight customers.

- Improve service levels

- Reduce inventory and/or logistics costs

- Improve the speed in decision making and fuel innovation

2. Data analytics will be utilised to help investors make accurate financial predictions and make the best investment decisions possible. Businesses are highly interested in learning how analytics may reduce costs and boost profits. Data analytics will be utilised to help investors make accurate financial predictions and make the best investment decisions possible. The goal is to make the largest profit possible

3. The implementation of IoT-driven technologies in supermarkets can help to provide more accurate figures on damaged goods and potentially prevent waste from occurring.